KLINGON D7D BATTLECRUISER

This special variant of the standard D7 had four drone racks, replacing the four waist phasers. This makes the ship deficient in phaser firepower, but provides it the ability to launch four drones during any given turn, and gives it extra shuttles. Several of the D7s in the Klingon Order of Battle are in fact D7Ds and the Klingons considered them just another battlecruiser, rather than a special mission ship.

KLINGON D7D BATTLECRUISER

This special variant of the standard D7 had four drone racks, replacing the four waist phasers. (In Fleet Scale, this is reduced to two drone racks replacing the two waist phasers.) This makes the ship deficient in phaser firepower, but provides it the ability to launch two (Fleet Scale) drones during any given turn, plus an extra shuttle. Several of the D7s in the Klingon Order of Battle are in fact D7Ds and the Klingons considered them just another battlecruiser, rather than a special mission ship.
