Federation and Empire Fleet Charts and Counters

For use with the F&E Large Scale Map. File includes;

Pages 2-5. – Fleet Counters includes the following

Twenty-five Federation Fleet Counters, 24 Klingon Fleet Counters, 21 I.S.C. Fleet Counters, 16 Fleet Counters for the Romulans, Kzinti, Gorn, Hydran, and Lyran, 14 Andromedan Fleet Counters, 11 Orion Fleet Counters, 8 Tholian and Seltorian Fleet Counters, 7 Paravian Fleet Counters, 4 L.D.R. Fleet Counters, and 2 Fleet Counters for the Vudar and the W.Y.N. Star Cluster. Also included are Reserve Fleet markers for each empire: including extras so you can use Option Points to add a Reserve or two.

Pages 6-48 –Expanded Fleet Charts (11x14). There are 43 of the Expanded Fleet Charts. Twenty-nine for the eight empires used in F&E2K plus several Empires from later expansions that are in play test as of this release. More than enough to handle any game, provided you have enough space.

Pages 49-114 – Standard Fleet Charts (8.5x11). There are 66 of the Standard Fleet Charts covering the same information as the 43 Expanded Charts. Players can choose to use either set of charts.

Why two sets of charts? When I put the file together for the original one inch counters and fleet charts I simply followed the template Chuck Strong created several years ago for all the charts. Generally everybody has access to standard printer paper so it seemed like the right size for the charts. However I kept finding myself setting one chart partially over another (covering the battle chart on one) due to space. The two charts together covered a space about 11x14 inches in area so I recreated them at that size for my own use. With the extra space I decided to make the fleet area on each chart a little larger and add a few extra items to the capital charts for each race. This literally makes it possible to manage several races from just one or two charts. Not one to be stingy I decided to share them with everybody. That did require that I finish the promised update of the older 8.5x11 charts to include the long requested I.S.C. and Andro charts as well as charts for most of the other Alpha Octant races. I hope everybody enjoys using them.
